

Firm Profile

DUNS: 167788608

NAICS: 541330, 541350, 541611, 541618

CASE Consulting, Inc.

Located in Columbia, South Carolina, offers Construction Administration services and Structural Consulting which assure project implementation remains in focus with the design, budget, and schedule to award the best final presentation today's construction practices have to offer.

CASE Consulting, is a minority owned company led by President and Majority Owner, Calvin A. Wise. A Licensed General Contractor with 19 years of Structural Design and Construction Administration, Calvin A. Wise and the firm's supporting staff of registered engineers, graduate engineers, licensed contractor, and skilled technicians provide the professional edge needed to excel in today's construction environment. Utilizing the best of today's computer oriented environment, CASE Consulting stays abreast of new construction practices, methodology, and technology with continuing educational training for its staff.

CASE Consulting provides Construction Administration services through highly experienced and qualified field personnel. With a high quality of past performance associated with public and private sectors, with clients ranging from Architects to Developers, Federal, State, and Local Municipalities to Individual Owners, CASE Consulting stands ready to provide the service you need to ensure project management is at its highest level. With the ability to place our field representatives on-site from groundbreaking ceremony through close-out our clients are kept up to date through photography, Monthly, Weekly, and even Daily field observations. In daily monitoring of project implementation and Contract Documentation concurrence, our clients are assured of successful project completion.

CASE Consulting's commitment of providing unprecedented service to their associates and clients has led to a proven record of dedication and accomplishment. With over 51 years of combined experience in Structural Consulting and Design, CASE Consulting offers invaluable service encompassing new large scale commercial projects from airport terminals and hangars, industrial facilities and office buildings, to renovations and additions for educational facilities. Our staff is alert to the changing environment and needs of construction projects. We are committed to providing resolution to project needs when unexpected obstacles arise.

